STAFF MEMBERS

An asterisk precedes the names of men or women with wives or husbands living.

A. B. indicates the Architecture Building; B. L., the Biological Laboratory; Bot. A., Botany Annex; Ch. E. B., the Chemical Engineering Building; C. B., the Chemistry Building; Eng. B., the Engineering Building; G. H., Garrison Hall; G. B., the Geology Building; G. C., Gregory Gymnasium; H. E. B., the Home Economics Building; J. B., the Journalism Building; K. M. A., Kinsolving Music Annex; Law B., the Law Building; Main B., the Main Building; M. L. B., the Modern Language Building; Mus. Annex, Music Annex; Mus. B., the Music Building; O. L. B., the Old Library Building; P. E. B., the Petroleum Engineering Building; Phy. B., the Physics Building; Power B., the Power Building; Press B., the Press Building; S. H., Sutton Hall; Union B., the Union Building; W. H., Waggenger Hall; W. G., the Women's Gymnasium; Museum, Texas Memorial Museum.

The following are the designations, with abbreviations in parentheses, of the temporary frame buildings on the campus: A Hall, Art Building (Art B.), C. P. Hall, E. D. Hall, Engineering Shop (Eng. Shop), M. Hall, R Hall, Speech Building (Speech B.), V Hall, X Hall, Y Hall, Z Hall.

Telephone numbers are in parentheses. There are three types of telephones on the campus:

1. Bell telephones which are a part of the University exchange. These numbers are indicated by the University's number and the station number, thus: 9171-213, which means dial 9171 and then call 213. If you are calling from the campus and want another station number, dial only the station number; if you want an outside line, dial 9, wait for the dial tone, and then dial the number.

2. Bell telephones which do not have any connection with the University exchange. These have numbers consisting of four or five figures.

3. Intercommunicating telephones which have no connection with any other system and are for communication on the campus only. These numbers are indicated by the letters P.A.X. preceding the number, thus: P.A.X. 175.

Instructors in Bible Chairs, although not employed by the University, are included for convenience.
